

West Virginia Healthy Resources Directory

Community Resources – Facilities

The WV Healthy Resources Directory is being developed to assist individuals and groups in finding community resources in all areas of the state that can provide health-related professional assistance, educational opportunities, or participation related to obesity, physical activity, and nutrition.

If you manage a facility in West Virginia that promotes physical activity/nutrition/health education and would like to have the facility included in this statewide directory, please complete this form, and submit to:
